High Ropes Challenge
50 Foot Tango Tower
At Camp Cheerful

Achievement Centers for Children

What is High Ropes?

The high ropes challenge course is a custom-designed, professionally constructed, fully-accessible activity structure for children and adults with and without disabilities.

One of the most advanced challenge course systems available, the universally accessible 50 foot high "Tango Tower" incorporates two climbing walls, over a dozen ropes activities and more than ten low initiatives, including rappelling devices and cargo nets.

Multiple vertical elements create more than 35 unique ways to get to the top. To descend, climbers are lowered on a rope or can glide down the zip line. A hydraulic zip wire system raises and lowers participants, ensuring safety and comfort.

Regardless of your physical abilities or limitations, our Climbing Tower is designed so that everyone can participate!

Is it Safe?

Our course is inspected daily by staff and yearly by an outside group of professionals. The course follows the Association for Challenge Course Technology (ACCT) Challenge Course Standards. Each piece of equipment is inspected before and after each climb. Helmets are provided to each participant and are required at all times.

Non-Corporate Group is defined as any group for a less-intensive teambuilding program.*

"I learned more about myself and how my team viewed me by engaging on the high ropes course than anything a personality test might tell me."

-Kim Bell, Cleveland Clinic Foundation

"The high ropes course was exhilarating and moving. The team-building exercises laid the foundation for better communication between me and my colleagues. We are truly stronger for taking on this challenge together."

-Rob Rogers, Findley Davies, Inc.
